BIO

Alex Neri has been a key figure in the electronic dance music scene since the early 1990s. He began his career at a very young age, DJing in various clubs across the Tuscany region of Italy. These were the years of new wave, electro funk, and garage-influenced house music, and Alex quickly gained international recognition for his distinctive Italo-inspired productions.

Alongside his success as a global DJ, Alex formed a long-standing creative partnership with Marco Baroni. Together, they produced numerous iconic records under various aliases, one of the most renowned being Kamasutra, whose releases were celebrated worldwide.

In 1995, Alex launched the Planet Funk project, starting with two strong club records that evolved into a fully-fledged band. Their official debut single, "Chase the Sun" (1999), became an instant global radio hit, paving the way for a string of successful singles and albums, as well as widespread acclaim within the music industry. To date, the band has released five studio albums and a "Best Of" compilation, and is currently finalizing their sixth album, set to be released in 2022.

At his core, Alex's passion lies in the club scene, where he can fully express his deep love for music. Always innovative, his DJ sets are a seamless blend of experimental sounds and the finest house and techno tracks from around the world.
